

Christmas, Collecting & the Contemporary Home at Art & Antiques for Everyone

The largest vetted fair outside London for the widest range of antiques, art and decorative interior pieces.

Halls 17-18, National Exhibition Centre, Birmingham B40 INT

28 November – 1 December 2019

Celebrate the winter season with art, antiques, jewellery, sculpture, Mid-Century and decorative period pieces at the Art & Antiques for Everyone Fair at the NEC, Birmingham from 28 November – 1 December 2019.

‘This is the fair for anyone who collects antiques, wants to decorate their home in style and, with Christmas in view, find a unique gift for a loved one,’ says organiser Dan Leyland.

Art & Antiques for Everyone presents more than 200 specialist dealers offering for sale a huge variety of desirable pieces. With prices from less than £20 to more than £20,000, there is something for the most discerning buyer and first-time collector.

With specialists in 18th, 19th and 20th century jewellery, including many eye-catching vintage handbags and costume pieces inspired by the Hollywood designers of the 1920’s and 30’s, the fair is proven provider of inspiration for the special gift. For men, fabulous designer watches, cufflinks, tie pins, silver hip flasks, Art Deco drinks cabinets, cocktail shakers, vintage leather luggage, 1920’s Peaky Blinders flat caps and treasures from the Grand Tour qualify as desirable ‘Mantiques’.

The fair attracts more than ten thousand visitors over four days. ‘Our Winter fair is the largest of its kind and a magnet for anyone with an interest in antiques and collecting,’ says Dan Leyland. The fair has the unique appeal of bringing together dealers from all levels of the antiques world: dealers with galleries in London’s West End showing their finest works; to occasional dealers with a passionate desire to buy and sell all kinds of unusual items from early toys and dolls to vintage fabrics, unusual memorabilia and rare scientific instruments. The fair presents exhibitors in a variety of settings – experts with a stand showing their latest acquisitions to professionally lit room-set style displays designed to inspire. As one exhibitor explained: ‘People are seeking to buy unique and interesting pieces, items that have a timeless aesthetic appeal and add character to the home.’

At recent NEC fairs, Arts & Crafts, Art Nouveau, Art Deco and Scandinavian works of art have all proved extremely popular, while Mid-Century Modern, 20th Century works of art selected contemporary pieces have broadened the fair’s appeal to younger collectors. The fair continues to offer a fantastic range of traditional antiques, from Asian art and artefacts, fine art, early pottery, designer lighting, classic English town and country furniture, fine porcelain to 18th and 19th century glass, bronzes, silver and jewellery.

Vetted for Quality and Assurance

Art & Antiques for Everyone is a vetted fair with a team of experts assembled to ensure that exhibits are professionally presented and accurately labelled.

Judith Miller Celebrates

Judith Miller, who has been editing the famous Millers antiques guides, will be celebrating 40 years since the launch of this worldwide best-selling book that has been the major reference book for so many collectors.

Judith began collecting in the 1960s while a student at Edinburgh University. She has since become one of the world’s leading experts in antiques & collecting and known worldwide for the authoritative Millers Guide books and price guides. She is a regular specialist on TV, notably on BBC’s Antiques Roadshow. Judith will be presenting expert talks on collecting throughout the fair.

A special Exhibition Feature will be announced shortly.
